You should be aware of the following information, which is set out in more detail in Section 6 of the Real Estate Settlement Procedures Act (RESPA) (12 USC 2605):

During the 60 day period following the effective date of the transfer of the account servicing, a payment received by your old servicer, before its due date, may not be treated by the new servicer as late, and a late fee may not be imposed on you.

Section 6 of RESPA (12 USC s2605) gives you certain consumer rights. If you sent a "qualified written request" to your servicer concerning the servicing of your account, your servicer must provide you with a written acknowledgment within 20 business days of receipt of your request. A "qualified written request" is written correspondence, other than notice on a payment coupon or other payment medium supplied by the servicer, which includes your name, account number, and reason for the request.

No later than 60 business days after receiving your request, your servicer must make appropriate corrections to your account, and must provide you with a written clarification regarding any dispute. During this 60 business day period, your servicer may not provide information to a consumer reporting agency concerning any overdue payment related to such period or qualified written request. However, this does not prevent the servicer from initiating foreclosure if proper grounds exist under the mortgage documents/security instruments.

A "business day" is a day on which the offices of the business entity are open to the public for carrying on substantially all of its business functions.
